THE DURATION OF THE WAR.

GERMAN PAPER'S VIEWS.

THIS IS THE ELEVENTH HOUR.

London, June 22.

A remarkable prediction of early peace is contained in an article in the Vorwärts, the official organ of the German Socialist party.

The greatest importance is attached to the article in view of the fact that it passed the German censor despite the fact that it contains a prophecy couched in scathing denunciation of the spirit of militarism and imperialism which the Vorwärts charges led to the war.

The article reads in part as follows: "The Nationalists and Socialists are indeed right when they assert that the deeply rooted system of capitalism and imperialism has embittered the industrial relations between the nations and the nations groups to the utmost degree and finally led to the catastrophe of this world war."

"Experiences of the past can afford us little hope of a peaceful development in the future, but what if this world catastrophe—to quote a striking phrase used by the Imperial Chancellor—should once more supply 'proof unanswerable, serious proof' that imperialism, with its last word, war—world war—and with its militarist and imperialist methods, has failed and should compel us not to further the development of these methods, but to find a new solution?"

REPORT TO ARBITRATION.
"What if the cannon stroke as ultimate ratio were in this case set aside and the sword no longer drawn to cut the Gordian knot? What if statesmanship were relied upon to settle the problem for the neighbouring nations of Europe?"

"What if the pens of the diplomats were used, not to destroy, but to plant the sword which so vainly sought to achieve their end back to its sheath?"

"The idea of disarmament and of an international court of arbitration is necessarily a Utopia, an ideal playing for the philosophers so long as imperialism and militarism are the need tools of the nationalistic and capitalistic interests and are calculated to obtain a clear cut decision."

"But the moment these realistic methods fail and the might of the bayonet no longer turns the scales, the ideas of arbitration will be seen to have real value. Military methods will be relegated to their side in their proper realm. The result of a long and indecisive conflict is to give real and striking importance to the peaceful settlement and arbitration, and it appears to be the last and only method of solving the conflict of interests."

It is true that to many military states such an end of the greatest historical struggle between the strongest military powers in history goes against the grain. Russia, with her inexhaustible supply of men and her means of industrial development, would regard the limitation of her armaments with eyes as unfavourable as England would look upon diminution of her fleet, which would make an end of her absolute mastery of the sea.

But the force of the industrial necessity and a new grouping of the powers should bring concessions in this direction just as it is likely to place a damper upon the fantastic plans of other nations to rule the world.

"We need not trouble too much about the feasibility of such international arrangements. Trustworthy means of control would easily be created, for if the condition of military preparation in every State were an open secret the apparatus devised for international control would work all the more easily and securely, because all States even the small neutral countries, would have the liveliest interest in the interest in the apparatus devised for international control."

"Any disloyal attempt to break the peace would be revolved against the offender, at once be brought before the international tribunal set up for dealing with such cases. Though the proverb 'Where there's a will there's a way' may be thought to 'trifle' banal, it has the greatest possible value for international agreements."

"If a fundamental understanding could be arrived at, detailed arrangements need not offer the slightest difficulty. The Socialists, who are regarded with such distrust by the capitalists with their tendency to 'divide' the nations into hostile camps, would find a rich field for work in this matter. All the strength of the Social Democrats would rally to the maintenance of these international agreements."

"We earnestly trust that our politicians and parliamentarians will devote their attention to these ideas, which have for a long time been discussed in neutral and enemy countries by those who have a right understanding of this world war. A way would then be found out of this world catastrophe more quickly than by fixing a fatalistic glance at the events."

"It is certain that many will urge the old objection against us that 'the year is full of sweet wine.' But we answer with Peter, 'Behind, there are not as drunk as we suppose, for unless we are very much deceived, this is the eleventh hour of this world catastrophe.'"

LABOUR M.P.'S BRILLIANT SON.

MASTER OF ARTS AND CAPTAIN AT TWENTY-THREE.

Lieut. Arthur Walsh, eldest son of Mr. Stephen Walsh, Labour M.P. for the Ince Division of Lancashire, has been gazetted a temporary captain in the 1st North Lancashire Regiment.

Lieut. Walsh, who is only 23 years of age, had already taken his degree as Master of Arts when, on the outbreak of the war, he enlisted as a private in the Territorial Force for general service. It was not long before he was drafted into the Officers' Training Corps, being afterwards gazetted second lieutenant in a Manchester City Battalion.

Lieut. Walsh won his way unaided from the elementary school to the university by means of scholarships. He first won a scholarship which took him from the elementary day school to the Wigan Grammar School, and there he was awarded the Powell Scholarship, which took him to Owens College, Manchester, where he not only took his B.A. degree with honours but also carried off further scholarships, which enabled him to prosecute his studies at the Sorbonne, Paris.

After two years at the Sorbonne with brilliant success, he was awarded the degree of Licentiate of Letters by the University of France, and later he proceeded to his degree of Master of Arts. Just before the outbreak of war he was appointed assistant master in languages and literature and mathematics at the Nelson Municipal Secondary School.

A 2300,000 BAZAAR.

SUCCESS BEYOND EXPECTATION OF NEW YORK WAR CHARITY.

Owing to the extraordinary success of the Allied Bazaar, which was opened in New York early in June with the object of raising a million dollars for the relief of sufferers from the war in Allied countries, it was decided to keep the bazaar open for a week longer than was originally intended.

The attendance at the bazaar (which closed on June 21) reached 750,000, and the receipts were estimated at $200,000—half as much again as the amount first aimed at.

NATIONAL MEMORIAL TO KITCHENER.

MOVING TRIBUTES IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

That this House resolve itself into a Committee to consider a humble address to His Majesty, praying that His Majesty will give directions that a monument be erected, at the public charge, to the memory of the late Field Marshal Earl Kitchener, with an inscription expressing the admiration of this House for his illustrious career and its gratitude for his devoted services to the State.

In moving the above resolution in the House of Commons, on June 21st, Mr. Asquith paid a moving tribute to the great services rendered to the State in many fields of action by Lord Kitchener. The Premier said:

When the House adjourned for the Whit Monday recess Lord Kitchener had just received a strong and unmistakable expression of his confidence, and the next day he met in private conference a large number of his members, including some of his most persistent and, as it then seemed, irreconcilable critics, with the result that he and they parted on terms not only of mutual respect but of complete understanding.

I am glad to remember that at our last interview he expressed his pleasure at what had happened and his hope that this was the first step in a relationship of growing confidence and sympathy. When he said farewell, after nearly two years of daily intercourse which had gone on through all the strain and stress of the war, there was no thought on either side of more than a temporary parting, no foreshadowing of a separation that neither time nor space can bridge. Providence, in its wisdom, was preparing for him a sudden release of his burden of care and toil.

A DOMINANT PERSONALITY.

We who for the moment remain, those of us in particular who shared, as I did, his counsels in the greatest emergency of our time with ever-growing intimacy and fullness, can only bow our heads before the Supreme Will in whom are the issues of life and death.

Lord Kitchener, in whatever environment of circumstances or condition he might have been placed, would have been, as he was always and everywhere, a great and a dominant personality. He was tried in many different ordeals, and he always survived and conquered the test.

He began his career in the Royal Engineers, without any advantage of birth or of favour. I remember well, about a year ago, when we were talking one day of the importance of promoting young officers who had distinguished themselves in the war, that he told me that, twelve years and had remained a subaltern in that fine and illustrious corps.

He never chafed or fretted after the fashion of smaller men. The hour came to him as it comes to all who have discernment, faculty and will. From that moment his future was assured. His name is inseparably associated with that of Lord Cromer in one of the greatest achievements of our race and time—the emancipation of Egypt. (Cheers.) To his genius we owe the conquest of the Sudan, and to his organising initiative the process which has ever since gone on of substituting over a vast and to a large extent devastated area civilisation for barbarism, justice for caprice and cruelty, a humane and equitable rule for a devastating and sterilising tyranny.

THE SERVANT OF DUTY.

From Egypt he was called in a great Imperial emergency to South Africa, where in due time he brought facilities to a close and helped to lay the foundations of that great and rapidly consolidating fabric which has welded alienated races and given us in the great conflict of to-day a unique example of the service which local autonomy can render to Imperial strength. The next stage of his life was given to India, where he reconstituted and reorganised our army, police and British.

Rallied to Egypt, he was displaying the same gifts in civil administration which he had already illustrated in the military sphere, when, at the outbreak of war, he obeyed with the alacrity of a man who had become the willing servant of duty the summons to direct and to regenerate our Imperial forces in the supreme crisis of our national history.

He brought to his new task the same sleepless energy, the same rare resourcefulness, the same masterful personality, which never failed him in any of the fields of action in which he was during 50 years called upon, on behalf of his country to play his part.

His career has been cut short while still in the full tide of unexhausted powers and possibilities. No one is less fitted than I feel myself at this moment to be to make an analysis of his qualities or an appraisal of his services to the State. I would only say this—I cannot say more—that few men that I have known had less reason to shrink from submitting their lives to the pure eyes and the perfect vision of all-judging God. (Cheers.)

MR. DONALD LAW.

Mr. DONALD LAW said—

I desire in a very few words to second the resolution which has just been moved in terms so eloquent and touching by the Prime Minister. Lord Kitchener filled a great place, not only in the mind of his countrymen, but of the world. At the close of the conference which I attended, the other day at Paris the President paid a glowing tribute, amidst the hush of heartfelt sympathy of the representatives of all our Allies to the memory of the great soldier whose death he deplored as a loss not more to England than to the Allies as a whole. Lord Kitchener's strength, like that of most, perhaps of all, men of action, lay not so much in any mental process of logical reasoning which carried him to his decision, as in that instinct which is so often deeper and truer than our thoughts.

It was that sure instinct which, at the outbreak of war warned him of the nature of the terrible struggle in which we were involved. It was that instinct which induced him at the beginning to set about the formation of armies on a scale such as we had never dreamed of, and at a time when, as I believe, no statesman of any party would have formed a conception so gigantic and yet, as events have shown, so necessary.

That Army, exists to-day, to play a great and, as we hope and believe, perhaps a decisive part in securing that victory upon which the future of our race and, as we believe, the well-being of the world, depends. That Army exists as a testimony to the strength and determination of our country, but it exists also as a noble and enduring monument to the memory of that man who conceived it.

Lord Kitchener's death was indeed tragic, and if we consider the circumstances of it, there are few of us, I think, who would not say, "Alas my end be like his." He died after nearly two years of war—in the conduct of which he played a great part—a war in which there were no striking victories, and of which the fruits are still to be gathered—yet he enjoyed, as this House knows, in the fullest degree the confidence of his countrymen. He died, as the Prime Minister has said, in the full tide of his potentialities and possibilities. He died when his eye was not dimmed or his natural force abated after an arduous life, in which he served his country in every quarter of the globe.

He has fallen when the tide of battle still rolls on, and it is for us who remain to close our ranks with a single eye to achieving that victory, the ultimate attainment of which he never doubted. (Cheers.)

CONFIDENCE OF THE WORKERS.

Mr. WARD (Chairman of the Labour party) said: The working men of the country had a sure instinct for seeing and recognising worth when it was evident, and he believed there was no man in

"For the Blood is the Life."

YOUR BLOOD WANTS PURIFYING.

IF YOU are troubled with Eczema, Blisters, Spots, Pimples, Boils, Sores, or Eruptions of any kind continually breaking through the skin.

IF YOU have that constant itching and inflammation of Piles.

IF YOU are suffering from the aches and pains of Bad Legs, Rheumatism, Ulcers, Scrofula, and Ulcerated Sores, Glandular Swellings, Blood Poison, etc.

IF YOU are in the grip of Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago, Gout, etc.

All these are sure signs of clogging blood impurity, calling for immediate treatment through the blood, so don't waste your time and money on useless lotions and messy ointments which cannot get below the surface of the skin. What you want and what you must have is a medicine that will get right to the root of your trouble, a medicine that will thoroughly cleanse the blood of the poison that is in it, and which alone is the true cause of all your suffering. Clarke's Blood Mixture is just such a medicine. It is composed of ingredients which quickly attack, overcome, and expel from the blood all impurities (both blood-borne and arising) and by rendering it clean and pure, can be relied on to effect a lasting cure.

The True Value of CLARKE'S BLOOD MIXTURE is testified by a most remarkable collection of unsolicited testimonials from grateful patients of all classes—patients who have been cured after doctors and hospitals have given them up as incurable—patients who have been cured after trying many other treatments without success—patients who only have been cured of the particular skin or blood complaint from which they were suffering, but who have found great improvement in their general health. (See pamphlet round bottle.)

Over 50 years' success. Pleasant to take and warranted free from anything injurious. Of all Chemists and Druggists. WATERBURY'S COD LIVER OIL SUPPLEMENT. SKIN & BLOOD DISEASES.

HONGKONG TIDES.

The tide-table given below has been compiled at the National Almanac Office in London from the result of the analysis of observations taken by means of an automatic tide-recording machine in the Water Police Basin at Tsim Sha Tsui during the years 1887-8-9.

The zero of the table corresponds with the zero of the sounding in the Admiralty Chart, which has been found to be 4 feet 3 inches below mean sea level.

To obtain the depth of water on the tide gauge at the Victoria Naval Yard add 2 feet 4 inches, and on the gauge at Lamont Dock, Aberdeen, add 10 feet 6 inches to the height given in the table.
